Jay,

I am writing to tell you what a great pleasure it has been to work with you and your crew on both the office addition to the Southern New England Conference of the Seventh Day Adventists in Lancaster and the Dedham SDA Church renovation. Both have been unqualified successes, completed under demanding budgetary and schedule constraints. Your team pursued both of these projects with a "can do" attitude and attention to detail that is uncommon among most contractors we have worked with previously.

Murray Brother's has demonstrated a keen sensitivity to the aesthetic issues on both of these projects that often is only shared by the architect. As a result you have helped to realize the design intent even when circumstances could have compromised the result. You have been especially responsive to both our needs as well as those of the client, who clearly is committed to working with your firm again in the future as a result of your exemplary performance. In terms of the project budget you have managed two complex projects with virtually no change orders and have been extremely reasonable in working through unforeseen conditions with us. To that end we owe you a debt of gratitude.

Even when under the most extreme deadline pressure your team stayed focused on the end result and maintained their sense of humor throughout, which kept everyone at ease and working smoothly as a team. I speak for everyone in our firm when I say that we sincerely hope to have the opportunity to work with Murray Brothers again in the near future. Thank you for your perseverance and professionalism.

Sincerely,

Thomas Peterman, Principal
